

Natural bone regeneration

VEGAN

RESORBABLE

SUSTAINABLE

Whenever augmentation is required during implant-based restoration, clinicians – and, increasingly, well-informed patients – need to decide on a suitable bone regeneration material. Attributes such as efficiency, properties and origin are becoming ever more important factors in this decision these days.

In AlgOss 100 (monophasic) and AlgOss 20-80 (biphasic), clinicians and patients have the option of 100% vegan, consistently stable augmentation materials based on sustainable algae. Not only are they backed up by an impressive 30-year record of verifiable data and study findings, they are also acceptable to people who object to other products on ideological, ethical or religious grounds.

After a few years, the unique and biocompatible AlgOss material has been replaced almost entirely by newly formed vital bone.

The world's only resorbable, completely inorganic plant-based bone regeneration material.
